DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

[00030] and [00031] are redundant .

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

3. Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Azizi et al. (U.S. Patent 6329069).

Azizi et al. disclose Regarding Claim(s) 10, a process for providing a flexible body for an intracorporeal device, comprising: forming a wire at least partially into a helical coil having a high strength interior core, and a highly radiopaque cladding (col. 18, lines 54-56) that is at least 10% but not more than 60% of a cross-sectional area of the flexible body (col.9, lines 8-10); Regarding Claim(s) 11, the materials for the cladding and the interior core are reversed (col. 18, lines 57-59); and Regarding Claim(s) 12, the high strength interior core includes a material selected from the group consisting of nickel-titanium, Co-Cr-Mo, tantalum, tungsten, and alloys thereof (col. 20, lines 40-42).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Azizi et al. in view of Erickson et al. (U.S. Patent 5664580).

Regarding Claim(s) 13, Azizi et al. teach the limitation except the process includes joining the flexible body to a second flexible body.

Erickson et al. teach the process includes joining the flexible body (24) to a second flexible body (22) (Fig. 2).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the step of joining the flexible body to a second flexible body, as taught by Erickson et al. on the method of Azizi et al. so as to provide a sure connection of the two coil parts.

Regarding Claim(s) 14, Azizi et al. teach the flexible body is formed by co-drawing a wire having an exterior of a first radiopacity and a high strength interior of a second radiopacity, wherein the first radiopacity is greater than the second radiopacity(col. 18, lines 53-56).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-9 are allowed.
